PRESS RELEASE

Registration by Community Organizations

The Consulate General of India, New York has created a new page wherein community organizations can register themselves, thus generating a unique identification number. The unique i.d. will assist in communicating with CGI, New York and can also be used to update organizational details.

We request all community organizations to register on the following link: <https://indiainnewyork.gov.in/Organization>

Organizations which have previously registered are also requested to again register on the above link.
